C. P. R. RESIDENT ENGINEER THINKS SIDEWALK FEASIBLE

Sees Advantages For Both Town And Railway Company in Proposed Sidewalk Along the Right-of-Way To West Coleman—Will Have Plans Made At Once.

Resident Engineer Brown spent a portion of Wednesday in town, and he and mayor Ouimette discussed the proposal to build a sidewalk along the C. P. R. right-of-way to West Coleman.

Mayor Ouimette took the C. P. R. official over the ground and explained just what concessions the town wanted.

Mr. Brown seemed very favorably disposed to the proposition, and thought the plan was entirely feasible.

He promised to send along a man to make a plan of the proposed walk, showing just how it would affect the C. P. R. right-of-way, and stated that the town would hear from him in ten days or so.

Speaking to The Bulletin, Mayor Ouimette said it would be the best plan for the town to build an eight-foot sidewalk right through to West Coleman, as the fire reels could be run out on a sidewalk of this width. There were also other advantages in having a good substantial sidewalk built.

Developments in this matter may therefore be expected in a few days.

Will Take Up Question Of Town's Water Supply

Very Little Business of Importance To Occupy Attention Of Aldermen At Their Regular Meeting on Tuesday Evening—Question of Water Supply Discussed.

Alderman Leeki was the only absentee from the regular council meeting held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening last. There was little or no business of importance transacted.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. E. Disney's account for repairing the sidewalk in front of the Rex theatre, which was referred back at the previous meeting, was read and paid.

The mayor and the fire, water and light committee were instructed to wait upon the International Coal Co. in reference to the inadequate water supply. In connection with this matter, The Bulletin interviewed the Company on Thursday and were informed that the reservoir was crowded and cleaned that some two hundred tons of mud had been removed, and that the reservoir was now running over.

The council was advised that the insurance on the town building had expired. After discussing the matter, the aldermen decided to insure for three years at the usual reduced rate.

The fire, water and light committee was instructed to have the necessary repairs made to the roof of the town building. Also to make some repairs to lane and flume at the rear of the hospital.

Legislature of Alberta Opened With Brilliancy

Speech From Throne Did Not Contain Anything Very Important—Premier Says Session Will Be Brief If Opposition is Agreeable—No Mention of A. & G. W. Affair.

EDMONTON, Sept. 16.—With a brilliancy unsurpassed in the social history of the capital the first session of the third legislature of Alberta was formally opened this afternoon by Lieutenant Governor Bulyeau. The ceremonies were attended by practically all the members of the house, and by hundreds of prominent residents of the province. It was however, a day when women greatly outnumbered the men, even on the floor of the legislative chamber. All society was liberally represented, and as the lieutenant governor read the speech from the throne, it was a brilliant and varied pageant that was visible from the speaker's chair.

The speech from the throne was neither instructive, nor incisive, its chief feature being the omission of any reference to the Alberta and Great Waterway's railway fiasco, and its promised solutions. Following the precedent of recent sessions the crown speech was made the vehicle for protest against the fact that a former government gave up the natural resources of the province in return for a small cash subsidy.

The one promising feature of the speech from the throne is the clause pertaining to agricultural credit, which is to be given consideration, although it is not specifically stated that such consideration be forthcoming during the present session of the house.

Premier Sifton, in an interview gave it as his opinion that the session would be a very brief one if the opposition was agreeable. He did not state what government bills would be presented, but intimated that they would not be numerous.

Premier Sifton will continue to act as provincial treasurer. This is the opinion expressed in political circles today. It is stated that no appointment to the vacant portfolio will be made this year. There are several contenders for the position, and it is felt that no selection can be made without offending other members.

ORDINARY HORSE SENSE MUCH BETTER THAN RED TAPE

The daily newspapers the other day vouchsafed the information that Harry Thaw had, figuratively speaking, been picked up by the scruff of the neck and tossed back into the United States. Naturally, this way of doing things did not suit a small horde of lawyers who have been feasting off Thaw's millions for years past and they at once proceeded to say some nasty things about our Canadian justice. But their criticism was uncalled for. The Canadian authorities have been somewhat at sea on some of the fine technical points which the unusual and peculiar case called forth, they may not have been quite certain whether Thaw was sane or not—but they were every one absolutely sure that Thaw's room was a whole lot better and much more to be preferred than his company. Likewise they were quite sure that if Thaw once again set his foot down on American soil he would run a fair chance of remaining there for some considerable time. So they just closed up their law books and hustled Thaw back whence he came.

The modus operandi may not have been exactly according to Hoyle, but it was a mighty good sample of plain Canadian horse sense, and every decent man in Canada will feel glad that the officials responsible acted just exactly as they did.

THE YELLOW PERIL FROM ANOTHER ANGLE

Some few days ago we read in the daily newspapers that a certain body, then in session in one of the coast cities, had passed some rather strongly worded resolutions anent what it pleased a lot of people to refer to as "The Yellow Peril."

We are quite well aware that this question is a live issue in British Columbia every day of the year, and we are equally well aware that any organization or newspaper that starts out to discuss the question is treading on mighty thin ice. Nevertheless, when we read the resolutions above referred to we found it harder than ever to get away from a thought that has presented itself to us on many occasions when this "Yellow Peril" question has been before the public in a manner more prominent than usual.

There is a yellow peril. But it is a much bigger question and likely to be more far-reaching in its effect than most people ever imagined. This question of Asiatic immigration is the biggest problem that has ever confronted Canadians. Beside it the naval bill and other political issues are paled into insignificance. But The Herald is of the opinion that it is being regarded in an entirely wrong light, is being considered from the wrong angle, by both church and state.

In the first place, we do not believe it will ever be possible to prevent Asiatic immigration into Canada. It has been proved that a prohibitive head tax will not even act as a deterrent, and we feel quite sure that for imperial and diplomatic reasons Canada will never be able to pass any exclusion legislation.

Then, as China shakes off a little more of the lethargy that has enveloped that nation for centuries past, we may expect a greater and increasing number of the yellow men will land on our western shores year by year. Indeed, as a speaker in Toronto pointed out the other day, the present immigration from across the Pacific is but the first small wash of waves where yet shall roll a human sea.

And what are these people after? Why are they so determined to come to this country? True, they like our coin, but what they desire more than anything else is Western education. A Chinaman in Canada will pay any price to learn the English language. He wants to absorb our methods and our systems. He prizes this information to a greater extent than he values our money. That may sound like an absurd statement, but it is absolutely true.

Therefore, if this Asiatic immigration cannot be stopped (and we don't believe it can), and if these immigrants are thirsting for a knowledge of our ways and methods, how important that the environment into which they come should be raised to the highest level? What must these Orientals think when they find that our language is only to find that 45% of our criminals are under 18 years of age? What must they think when they find our laws tolerate vice just as bad as the opium den? What must they think when they learn that men will go to church on Sunday, be pious and good on that day, and then participate in all forms of skulduggery during the other six days in the week?

Suppose the churches, instead of bothering so much about the yellow peril, devote more attention to the political corruption for which this country of ours is becoming noted?

There is a "Yellow peril" right enough—but the peril lies in the fact that the Oriental may acquire the evil habits of the Caucasian before he acquires anything else.
